

bob gilchrist
bgilchristm5@gmail.com
redding, Connecticut 06896

unfortunately, the arrogance of the governor's administration with respect to stating GE's threat to leave the state was a bluff; the proposal to institute an exit tax for people leaving the state and many other decisions leave a retired couple such as us only one choice-we will vote with our feet by moving out of Connecticut. An emotionally difficult decision but we are getting closer to the fact that the tax burden leaves us no alternative.