Connecticut is forcing people who have lived in this state their whole life to leave because of this tax. With living on a fixed income and allllll the other expenses to live in Connecticut older people are trying to survive. Being one of the states with the highest taxes the only people who can afford to live here are the ones who have lived here their whole life. If you keep making us leave no one will live here soon. I am starting to think about retirement in about 8 years and because of that law I am already looking to leave. Connecticut is not doing anything to hold us here.
