No tax on SS benefits I feel would be positive for our State of Connecticut. For my self I put in the max SS payments for the entire time I worked as an adult. Why should I get taxed on money I have already earned? In addition no tax on SS may help keep some Seniors in CT instead of moving to one of the many States the does not tax SS. It would also help Seniors on a fixed income immensely giving them a little extra money per month. From what I can recall SS was NOT taxed even in CT sometime ago why not go back to the original policy?
