

James J Lowrey
Lowreyjames@sbcglobal.net
Bristol, Connecticut 06010

This is the worst thing that could happen. Hartford took the team from New Britain with all the great promises. If they have a financial problem "TO BAD". Once again a city has promised something and fallen short and thought the state would bail them out. NOT THIS TIME. With all the problem in this state, the last thing we need to support is a minor league baseball team that is moving. The powers that be made a choice and now they must live with it, just like the citizens of Conn. Have to deal with their decisions.