

I write today to stand for everyone that has a child/children and seeks making the best decisions for themselves and their family. Consumers have the right to know if products have GMO's and make educated decisions thereafter as to what they seek best.

Sincerely,

Jessica Zoccano