

the power to appoint Electors, "in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct." Thus, by taking action together, states can make the change to the national popular vote - without amending the Constitution.

Governor Malloy has joined leaders of both parties in expressing his support for this legislation. It's time to send the national popular vote bill to the House and Senate, and onto the Governor's desk so that he can sign it.

Steven Winter
426 Prospect St.
New Haven, CT 06511