

In terms of both short term and long term gainswe desperately need open space preserved in our towns and in Connecticut...every day it is easily seen that our open space is disappearing rapidly due to commercial interests with dubious and often redundant public offerings...it has been scientifically studied and we need at least half the earth preserved in order to preserve our own species and the cycle of life....

Robin Latta Tweedy

43 Court St.

Branford, Ct.06405