

I reside in Milford, CT and want to send my support for HB7254. I have a granddaughter who was recently diagnosed with Dyslexia. Though she is clearly quite bright, she had been falling behind in school the last couple of years. My daughter had discussed her delay with the school a number of times. She had asked for testing to find out if there were any special needs and the school has finally done this, discovering the Dyslexia. I believe that school personnel need extra training to recognize and support education and services that would identify and provide treatment for these students. All students deserve a quality education and I, as a tax payer, want to see these services provided. I am hopeful that our legislature and governor will support this bill.

Sincerely,
