What business tax credits does Connecticut offer?

This report updates OLR report 2015-R-0049.

Using the Guide

Connecticut offers numerous business tax credits for actions ranging from purchasing machinery and equipment to investing in start-up technology businesses. Some of the credits apply to money or assets businesses donate for public or charitable purposes, such as the Neighborhood Assistance tax credit. Most apply to one or more business taxes; a few apply to the personal income tax.

This report groups the credits by purpose (e.g., capital investment) and summarizes the credits in each group. The table of contents has hyperlinks to each table and credit program. For each credit, the tables indicate the (1) taxes against which the credit applies, (2) eligibility criteria, (3) credit limits, (4) carryforward or carryback limitations (i.e., rules allowing taxpayers to apply unused credits to prior or succeeding tax periods), and (5) transfer limitations (i.e., whether taxpayers earning the credit may sell or assign it to other taxpayers). The report also includes summary tables listing the credits with carryforward, carryback, and transfer provisions.
