Subject: Tolling Legislation

Thank you for giving Connecticut residents a chance to voice our opinions on tolls on our highways. We all know that tolls returning to Connecticut is inevitable, but it needs to be done right. With vehicles getting better gas mileage year after year, revenue from a gasoline tax will keep getting less and less. Furthermore, a gasoline tax only hurts Connecticut residents. Everyone knows people traveling from out of state, that travels through Connecticut, fuels up before entering Connecticut, therefore avoiding paying the gas tax. I understand that the tolls can't be placed on the borders, but like New York, they CAN be placed at a distance inside the borders to be legal. And should be placed at each interstate entrance to the state. 95, 91, 84 etc. make the out of state vehicles that aren't buying gas pay for the majority of the tolls, instead of constantly taxing Connecticut residents going about their daily lives.

Thank you for your time
