

I have serious doubts about the wisdom of fracking technology, from an environmental safety standpoint, no matter where it's taking place. I certainly do not want ANY waste from such an operation within 1,000 miles of where I live, in Connecticut. Let the oil company executives store it on their estates.

Harold Jordan

I am not a robot