

To whom it may concern:

Let me be perfectly clear: I do NOT want any fracking waste water brought into the state of Connecticut. EVER.

I oppose the fracking process itself as an environmentally destructive and potentially non-reverseable form of obtaining oil from the ground with great potential of polluting our ever decreasing levels of safe water labels and reservoirs.

The water wasted in the process of fracking and the contamination of the same during extraction process is not acceptable.

We need to invest more money into alternative energy sources, especially in anew England—such as Geo+Thermal and Solar instead of fracking.

Once these fracking contaminated by- products are introduced into our infrastructure we are at a no return position and our health conditions are at increasing risk both for now and our future generations.

We cannot prevent other states from using the fracking method but we CAN and MUST keep their by- products out of our state, If those states want fracking they should keep their waste products themselves.

We will be watching how you vote on this issue and will respond appropriately in the voting booth.

Jody Gemmell
New Fairfield, Ct

Sent from my iPad