

I greatly support this bill. My mother suffered from Alzheimer's, leaving this formerly vibrant woman depressed, and feeling abandoned. She begged us and caregivers to let her die. She wanted to stop eating and taking any pills, but was not allowed to die in this manner. Despite her dementia, she knew when she finally was dying, and was so grateful. Heartbreaking.

She was Roman Catholic, but believed that God did not want her to suffer like that.

Trish Dayan.

Stamford