

Animal Cruelty Cases in Connecticut (2007 – 2017)

By: Michelle Kirby, Senior Legislative Attorney

Issue

Summary of Connecticut's primary animal cruelty statute (CGS § 53-247) and the outcome of offenses brought under it from 2007 through 2017. (This report updates OLR Report 2017-R-0049.)

Summary

CGS § 53-247 punishes people convicted of specified animal cruelty acts with maximum fines ranging from $1,000 to $10,000, maximum imprisonment ranging from one to 10 years, or both. PA 13-258 \(§ 114\) amended this statute, classifying certain violations of this statute as class D felonies without changing the prison terms or fines.

According to the judicial branch, from 2007 through 2017, 3,480 offenses were brought under this statute. Approximately 80% of these cases were either dismissed or not prosecuted (see sidebar for procedural outcomes). In reviewing this data, it is important to note that an individual could be charged with multiple offenses or have multiple cases during a year.

Animal Cruelty Statistics

3,480 - Total offenses brought under the animal cruelty statute from 2007 through 2017

95% of the offenses were cruelty to animal violations (CGS § 53-247\(a\))

Procedural outcomes:

- 45% - not prosecuted (nolled)*
- 35% - dismissed*
- 19% - guilty*
- 1% - not guilty*

Of the 1,206 cases dismissed during this period, 935 (78%) were dismissed after the offender successfully completed a diversionary program, such as the Accelerated Rehabilitation Program.

Animal Cruelty Statute

Connecticut law defines “animals” as all brute creatures and birds (CGS § 29-108a). CGS § 53-247 prohibits many abusive behaviors toward animals and provides different penalties based on the severity of abuse and the abuser's intent. The prohibited acts and associated penalties are five distinct crimes: cruelty to animals, malicious or intentional cruelty to animals, animals engaged in exhibition of fighting, and intentionally injuring or killing police animals or dogs in volunteer canine service and rescue teams.

Cruelty to Animals

CGS § 53-247\(a\) prohibits people from overdriving, overloading, overworking, torturing, depriving of substance, mutilating, cruelly beating or killing, or unjustifiably injuring any animal. The law prohibits a person who impounds or confines an animal from (1) failing to provide it with proper care; (2) neglecting to cage or restrain it from injuring itself or another animal; or (3) failing to provide it with wholesome air, food, and water.

The statute also bans unjustifiably administering or exposing a domestic animal to any poisonous or noxious drug or substance intending the animal to take it. Individuals who have custody of an animal may not treat it cruelly; fail to provide it with proper food, drink, or shelter; abandon it; or carry or cause it to be carried in a cruel manner. Fighting with or baiting, harassing, or worrying an animal to make it perform for amusement, diversion, or exhibition is also prohibited.

A first violation of any of the above provisions is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000, imprisonment for up to one year, or both. Each subsequent offense is a class D felony, punishable by a fine of up to $5,000, imprisonment for up to five years, or both.

Malicious or Intentional Cruelty to Animals

Under CGS § 53-247\(b\), it is a class D felony for a first offense, and class C felony for subsequent offenses, to maliciously and intentionally maim, mutilate, torture, wound, or kill an animal. This law does not apply to:

1. licensed veterinarians following accepted practice standards;
2. persons following approved slaughter methods;
3. students, employees, or persons performing medical research and associated with a hospital, educational institution, or laboratory; and
4. persons abiding by generally accepted agricultural practices or lawfully engaged in taking wildlife.

Animals Engaged in Exhibition of Fighting

Under CGS § 53-247\(c\), it is a class D felony to knowingly commit any of the following actions:

1. own, possess, keep, or train an animal engaged in fighting for amusement or gain;
2. possess, keep, or train an animal to fight in an exhibition for amusement or gain;
3. allow any of the above mentioned acts to occur on premises under one's control;
4. act as a judge or spectator at such an exhibition; or
5. bet or wage on the outcome of an exhibition.

Intentionally Injuring or Killing Police Animals or Dogs in Volunteer Canine Service and Rescue Teams

Under CGS § 53-247\(d\), intentionally injuring (1) an animal performing its duties under a peace officer's supervision or (2) a dog performing its duties as a member of a volunteer canine search and rescue team is a class D felony, punishable by a fine of up to $5,000, up to five years imprisonment, or both. And under CGS § 53-247\(e\), intentionally killing such an animal is punishable by a fine of up to $10,000, imprisonment for up to 10 years, or both.

Animal Cruelty Offenses by Statute and Year

Number of Offenses

Table 1 shows the number of animal cruelty offenses committed from 2007 through 2017. As the table shows, 95% of the offenses were violations of the animal cruelty statute that specifically prohibits people from using or treating animals in harmful ways (CGS § 53-247\(a\)). (The other subsections penalize people who intentionally, knowingly, or maliciously abuse animals in specific ways.)

Case Outcomes

Table 2 and Figure 1 show the aggregated procedural outcome of animal cruelty offenses, by year, from 2007 through 2017. As the table shows, during this period 46% of the offenses were nolle, 34% were dismissed, 19% were guilty findings, and 1% resulted in not guilty findings. (OLR Report 2016-R-0226 summarizes the court procedure for animal cruelty cases.)
