

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing to you to strongly voice my opposition to the above listed proposals. My [husband] and I moved to New Canaan in 2017 in large part because of the excellent schools. We considered a number of states/towns with better commutes to NYC, but ultimately decided to trade commute time for the outstanding school system that New Canaan had to offer.

With all the fiscal issues that New Canaan is facing, it is hard to believe that the state would jeopardize one of the most important criteria that compels people who work in and around the NYC area to live and pay taxes here.

Yours,
