

S.B. 438 and S.B. 457 - Comments

I can see no reason Connecticut should disrupt the educational process of any school district that is successfully educating its students.

Combining schools to reduce administrative costs seems like a fine idea if we could guarantee the results prior to embarking on such a course of action. Most of the education budgets in Woodbridge are not driven by the costs of administration. So the concept seems unlikely to save money.

I am therefore strongly opposed to both bills in the subject line.
