

As a 47 year resident of Wilton whose children were graduated from our public schools, I strongly oppose SB 738, SB 457 and SB 874 and any other bill that opens the door to forced regionalization or otherwise re-organization of Connecticut Public Schools.

Connecticut has an historical reputation for fine schools that draws both residents and business to the state and keeps them here. There is already evidence that just the initial presentation of these bills by our government representatives is driving people to look elsewhere. This is the exact opposite of what we need to do and what those who ran for office in 2018 pledged.
