

As a citizen of Connecticut, a parent, and a supporter of religious freedom, I am writing testimony against HB 7005. The immunization rates in Connecticut are already very high and protecting the religious rights of our citizens is of greater priority at this time. There are only 1255 families using the RE in CT, this bill targets a small group of people and their religious rights. Religion and the government should be separate and protecting the rights of minorities should be important.

We are fighting for women's rights, gender rights, and immigration rights. Would you want to put religious rights aside? I would think we would want to support those rights as well, since we live in the United States of America. Please vote against bill #7005 and support the rights of those of minority religions without pressuring them or singling them out even more. Thank you for your time.

Nicole Hall

Connecticut resident