

Dear Sirs/Madam:

As a firm believer in the United States Constitution, I uphold the values of the First Amendment and believe in the separation of Church and State and as such the State of Connecticut has no legal authority interring with parents Religious rights to refrain from injecting foreign DNA and other substances into their children's bodies and so I strongly oppose pending legislation requiring such intrusion!

Respectful yours,
George William Kavanagh