

Dear all,

As a new resident to CT I am disappointed to see the proposed bill HB 7005. Our family is a mixed family with different religions. We are believers in God and choose to share with our children both of our religious and spiritual beliefs. Because of this, we do not belong to a religious institution. This bill is unfit for families of different backgrounds and beliefs.

Our first amendment rights protect our religious beliefs. To have a clergy sign off on a personal document to a particular institution that we are not a part of is unfair and seems rather discriminatory.

Please, there is no need to propose this bill. The bill is not for all citizens as we are all not cookie cut families.

Respectfully,
Schwartz Family.
