

Dear Members of the Children's Health Committee,

I am writing today regarding HB 7005. I oppose eliminating the school nurses ability to acknowledge a child's religious exemption from vaccination for the purpose of attending school. The school nurse is not administering any care, they are only acknowledging a persons religious choice. Since this only effects a very very small percent of the population and there are already other means of having this acknowledged any alteration in the current structure is unnecessary.

Sincerely,
Diana waller
