Legislators:

I am a 68 year old adoptee who has been waiting for decades to be allowed access to my history; my heritage. The right to know my parentage, withheld for my entire life for definitely questionable reasons, must surely be restored during this legislative session. Can any of you, in good conscience, continue to maintain this injustice? Adoptees on both sides of me chronologically have been granted access to this information with no reported ill effects. There can be no good reason for you to discriminate against me any longer. And I will be equally, extremely, disappointed should you see fit to let this little bill languish and die, as you have done for, at least, the last two years. Please, take care of this right away. I thank you, in advance, for what I know will be your prompt attention.

Sincerely,
Richard
