

Inequality exists when certain groups have access to a right that others do not have. The right to access birth information means having the ability to make choices about our health that impacts our lives. I can access this information because I wasn't adopted. A chance situation out of my control. Our current laws regarding adoptee access are archaic and damaging to quality of life. Please pass this bill.

Iren Lyon