

I am the father of a 16 year old girl whom we adopted from foster care when she was 3 years old. My wife and I have always believed it is the child's right and the government's responsibility to allow the child as much information as possible concerning their birth family. Our daughter has met her birth mother and some of her siblings. They are an important piece of her healing process as she deals with the trauma of separation. Connections to the pain of the past will build bridges to a healthy future. Please support the effort to allow adoptees to have access to their original birth certificates. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Brad Weaver
