

Hello,

I am a birth mother and have heard about the new law possibly passing in your state.

I gave up my daughter Abbey in 1987. I met her when she called me on the phone requesting to meet at age 20. I would never have wanted protected from my own flesh and blood. It is both of our rights to find each other and make these requests. I went on to have two other children. Abbey deserves the same rights that my other children have to reach and contact me.

Please don't make this situation any harder than it already is.

Thank you!

The measure of who we are is what we do with what we have ~ Vince Lombardi

Jen Wood