

I am writing to express my concern with the above mentioned bills. I do vaccinate my children but as a libertarian I firmly believe these bills overstep the reach of the government. It is my choice how to raise my child and I believe I am able to do a good job without government help.

The vaccines in concerned are very questionable with many conflicting reports of efficacy and danger. To make them compulsory is suspect. Leave the choice up to the parents.

Regards,

Laurie Gammons