

I, Sarah Previs, oppose SB094.

Nothing should ever be administered to a child without the parents consent. The effectiveness of the flu vaccine has been proven to be very low over the past several years. Flu prevention including hand washing and healthy eating habits are a much more effective ways to teach children and their families to fight the influenza virus. A pharmacist recently told me that the influenza vaccine lowers a persons immune system for two weeks which makes the person more susceptible to more viruses. This would cause one to become ill and spread to others, including immunocompromised, than if their immune system was not harmed at all. Please consider alternative ways to educate children to fight the flu other than administering vaccines without parental consent.

Thank you
