

Hello legislators,

I work at Boston Consulting Group, one of the largest consulting companies in the world, and I live in New Haven.

I don't do so for the convenience, as my office is in NYC, and there are no other employees who live here (out of ~1000 in the region).

I do so because I love this city, because I grew up here, and because I believe in its potential to grow.

I would love to see New Haven become an economic center for CT, and people like myself, David Salinas, Michael Harris, etc, are all trying our best to do so.

But we need better transportation. Extending Tweed and connecting our great city with other economic centers would be an enormous economic driver for CT. We shouldn't let politics of the few get in the way of that growth or cater to the whims of a few entitled individuals who object.

This initiative could benefit New Haven and CT greatly and it is our responsibility to do everything we can to see it through. I hope that the voices of concerned residents and business owners is listened to by our legislature and that a motion is made to extend Tweed.

Best,
Tom Goldenberg
