Good Morning,

This tax could very well mean the difference between many of us having heat or not in the coming years. Many of us live on a fixed income and imposing such a tax would mean a significant enough expense as to render fuel for heating systems out of budget for all or part of the winter. This is an unfair way to apply a tax to a necessary consumable to too many in our population. I am in opposition to this tax.

Thank you,
K. Coyne
