The amendment makes it a class E felony when a child in the care and custody of the Department of Children and Families dies or has a serious physical injury and the cause is intentional or due to gross negligence. The amendment results in a potential cost for incarceration or probation supervision and potential revenue from fines. On average, the marginal cost to the state for incarcerating an offender for the year is $1,800¹ while the average marginal cost for supervision in the community is less than $700² each year.

¹ Inmate marginal cost is based on increased consumables (e.g. food, clothing, water, sewage, living supplies, etc.) This does not include a change in staffing costs or utility expenses because these would only be realized if a unit or facility opened.

² Probation marginal cost is based on services provided by private providers and only includes costs that increase with each additional participant. This does not include a cost for additional supervision by a probation officer unless a new offense is anticipated to result in enough additional offenders to require additional probation officers.
