

If state run health care is anything remotely like this nonsense of signing up for a vaccine, hell no! This is a travesty and frankly a death sentence to the elderly and those citizens who do not have an email or smart phone etc. They cannot sign up for this. What other brilliant ideas would come from state run health care, more electronic sign ups for the elite to come first in line. If you really want to help get out of the way and allow health care facilities, pharmacies etc run healthcare.
