

I think that offering a state plan would be another option.

More options provide more choices for individuals who have difficulty paying the high premiums for private healthcare companies.

Respectfully,

Patricia Ochman