

Dear Sir,

Please keep the government as small as possible and let your CT citizens make their own choices in healthcare. Competition makes prices as reasonable as they can be, while employing folks in free enterprise and these businesses (insurance etc) in our state.

I have great coverage through my job as many do. If you want to offer choices for folks not employed that is fine.

The more you dictate to the public, the more they become dependent on others making decisions for them. That cancels personal growth!

Thank you,

Ray Rosson
