

I am against government-run health insurance. Based on evidence from the results of the Affordable Care Act, this kind of legislation will only raise costs of private and employer based health insurance. It would also lower the efficiency of the health care industry, with longer wait times and an impersonal approach to health care needs. And the Connecticut tax payer foots the bill once again.

Don Wallace
Cromwell, CT