

Dear Transportation Chair,

I am strongly against any ideas to put any train stations in Newington. We already have two fast-track stations for buses that never seem to ever have any passengers on them. It is useless to spend money on a Newington train station when I can easily take a bus to the Hartford Train Station. I could also go by Uber, 7 minutes away to the Berlin Train Station. In the era of Covid and for the years ahead there will be no support in our community for more public transportation like a train station. This is the general feeling of all of my friends as well.

Sincerely,
Alexa Collin
