sHB 5253

AN ACT CONCERNING DISCLOSURE OF GAMING VOLUNTARY SELF-EXCLUSION RECORDS AND ALLOWING SINGLE-USE STORED VALUE INSTRUMENTS TO BE USED TO FUND CERTAIN KENO AND LOTTERY ACCOUNTS.

SUMMARY

This bill allows the use of single-use stored value instruments (e.g., gift cards or value vouchers) bought from a lottery sales agent to fund a person's online gaming account for playing keno or lottery draw games through the state lottery's online platforms. It also generally expands privacy protections for people participating in voluntary self-exclusion processes from gaming entities, where a person can choose to limit their gaming account spending or block themselves from making an account or placing wagers.

Under current law, the name and personally identifying information of participants in the Connecticut Lottery Corporation's (CLC's) voluntary self-exclusion process are exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act. The bill broadens this exemption to participants in the voluntary self-exclusion processes that must be established with the gaming services provided by master wagering licensees (generally CLC and the Mashantucket Pequot and Mohegan tribes) and their associated licensed online gaming operators, online gaming service providers, and sports wagering retailers.

However, under current law, CLC may disclose the name and any relevant records, other than participation in its exclusion process, of a person who (1) claims a winning online lottery ticket (2) claims or is paid a winning online or retail sports wager, or (3) is paid a fantasy contest prize. The bill expands this exception to allow CLC to disclose when someone wins any lottery ticket. The bill creates an additional exception to allow the Department of Consumer Protection (DCP) and CLC to disclose the self-exclusion participants' information to the above gaming entities as necessary to achieve the purposes of the exclusion processes. (Under existing regulations, online gaming operators and sports wagering retailers must submit certain requests for voluntary self-exclusion to DCP (Conn. Agencies Reg. § 12-865-23).)

Lastly, the bill makes conforming changes.
