General Appointment Provisions

The following provisions generally apply to all appointments and confirmations. In addition, there are provisions that apply to the appointment of “department heads” and, in some cases, provisions that apply only to the appointment and confirmation of particular offices.

Appointees’ Terms

Unless otherwise specified, all appointees hold office for the term prescribed by law and until a successor is appointed and qualified. Appointees are not compensated unless prescribed by law but may be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses (CGS § 4-1).

The Pleasure of the Appointing Authority and Length of Term

If a term is not specified by law, appointed officials, including members of boards and commissions, serve at the pleasure of the appointing authority but no longer than the term of the appointing authority or until a successor is appointed and qualified (CGS § 4-1a).

Coterminous

“Coterminous” means that an appointee’s term ends on the same day as that of the appointing authority. For practical purposes, the term of a department head is coterminous with that of the governor. But in a legal sense, a department head’s term is not coterminous. Instead, a department head’s term ends on the March 1 following the beginning of a governor’s term. This provision enables a smooth transition of power (CGS § 4-6).

Deadline for Making Nominations

The law generally requires gubernatorial nominations that must be confirmed by the legislature to be made on or before May 1. If a vacancy results from a death occurring on or after May 1 and before legislative adjournment, the governor must nominate a replacement as soon as possible (CGS § 4-2).

Term of Legislative Appointees

Unless otherwise provided, the terms of legislative appointees begin on the July 1 following their appointment (CGS § 4-3).

Term of Gubernatorial Appointees

Unless otherwise provided (e.g., coterminous appointments), the terms of gubernatorial appointees begin on the July 1 following their appointment, but the terms of the governor's staff, executive secretary, and clerk begin on the date of appointment (CGS § 4-4).

Senate Appointment Deadline

The Senate, except for confirming department heads, must take final action on each gubernatorial nomination within 15 session days from the date that the nomination is sent to it by the governor, or before the day the legislative session adjourns, whichever is sooner. If the Senate fails to act by its deadline, the law allows the governor to fill the position without confirmation until the sixth Wednesday of the next session and until a successor is appointed and qualified (CGS § 2-39). The Senate's deadline for confirming department heads is controlled by the law for these appointments, described in the next section.

Department Head Appointment Process

The law establishes special procedures for the nomination and appointment of department heads. It identifies which office is a “department head” for the purposes of the statutory confirmation procedure. The list of offices includes, among others, the Secretary of the Office of Policy and Management, commissioners of state departments, certain executive directors, and the State Board of Education (CGS § 4-5).

Appointment and Term of Department Heads

The governor must appoint each department head by March 1 of the first year of the governor’s term with the advice and consent of either chamber of the General Assembly. Department heads serve at the pleasure of the governor but no longer than four years from March 1 in the year of appointment, unless reappointed. If a department head is not appointed by March 1, the incumbent may continue to serve until March 10 (CGS § 4-6).

Confirmation Process

The governor must make the nominations for all department heads by February 1 of the first year of the gubernatorial term. A nomination may be made to either chamber of the General Assembly. That chamber has sole responsibility for confirming the nomination (CGS § 4-7).

Confirming Nominations

The chamber receiving the governor’s nomination must “immediately refer” it to its committee on executive nominations. The committee must report by resolution within 15 calendar days after the date of reference. The chamber must accept or reject the resolution. If confirmed, a nominee takes office on March 1 of the year in which he or she is nominated, with two exceptions (CGS § 4-7\(a\)). If a nominee is not appointed or reappointed by March 1, the incumbent may continue to serve until March 10. If a department head position is vacant before March 1 during the first year of a governor’s term, the nominee may exercise the powers and duties of the office as a designate before confirmation (CGS § 4-7\(b\)\(2\)).

Vacancy Appointments During a Regular Session. If a vacancy occurs when the General Assembly is in regular session, the governor must submit a nomination to fill it within 30 days of its occurrence. The chamber must immediately refer the nomination to its committee on executive nominations. The committee has 10 legislative days to report its resolution. If the chamber confirms the nomination within 30 calendar days after its submission, the nominee takes office and serves until the end of the original term. If the chamber rejects the nomination within 30 calendar days after its submission, the governor must, within 30 days of the rejection, submit another nomination. If a nomination is submitted within 30 days of a session's constitutional adjournment date and the legislature does not confirm or reject it, the procedure for filling vacancies that occur during the interim must be followed (CGS § 4-7\(b\)\(1\)).

Vacancy Appointments During the Interim. If a vacancy occurs during a legislative interim, the governor must fill it until the sixth Wednesday of the next regular session. The governor must submit the name of the vacancy appointee to either chamber for confirmation at the beginning of the next regular session. The chamber to which the nomination was submitted must follow the procedure for vacancies occurring when the General Assembly is in session (CGS § 4-7\(c\)).

Rejected Nominations. No one whose nomination has been rejected by resolution may serve in the office for which she or he was nominated during the term of the chamber that rejected the nomination (CGS § 4-7\(d\)).

Qualifications, Duties, and Powers

The law requires department heads to be qualified by training and experience for the duties of their office. They must act as the governor's executive officer to accomplish their department's purposes. They must plan comprehensively and coordinate their agency's programs, organize their agency to promote economy and efficiency, and designate deputies to act on their behalf when absent. They may abolish, transfer, or consolidate parts of the agency; make regulations; enter into contracts; receive money, revenue, or services from the federal government, corporations, associations, or individuals; and create advisory boards.

They must devote their full time to their duties with the department and may not engage in any other gainful employment (CGS § 4-8).

Conflicting or Obsolete Statutory Provisions

There are conflicting statutory provisions concerning the appointment and confirmation of certain offices. Specifically, the statute requiring legislative confirmation designates the State Board of Education as a “department head” subject to legislative confirmation by either chamber of the legislature. The statute creating the board requires consent by both chambers. In practice, nominees to the board have been confirmed by both chambers.

Similarly, the statute requiring legislative confirmation subjects members of the Board of Regents for Higher Education to the same confirmation process as department heads (i.e., confirmation by either chamber of the legislature). The statute creating the board requires consent by both chambers. In practice, nominees to the board have been confirmed by both chambers.

The law requires the legislature to confirm the appointment of the chairperson of a quasi-public agency that is no longer active. The Connecticut Housing Authority’s duties were transferred to the Connecticut Housing Finance Authority and 1995 was the last time the governor submitted the name of an appointee for confirmation. Because the Connecticut Housing Authority is not active, this report does not include its chairperson.

Department Heads

The following offices are designated as department heads by statute (CGS § 4-5).

Commissioner of Administrative Services (CGS §§ 4a-1, 4a-2, 4b-1b and 5-200)

The commissioner is responsible for establishing personnel policy and personnel administration for state employees; publishing laws, stationery, and forms; purchasing and providing supplies, materials, and equipment for state agencies; and collecting funds due the state for public assistance.

Concerning state property, the commissioner is responsible for purchasing, selling, leasing, subleasing, and acquiring property and space for state agencies; selling or exchanging surplus state property; and supervising the care and control of, and administering the security for, most state buildings and grounds.

Concerning information technology, the commissioner is responsible for developing and updating an annual information and telecommunications strategic plan; identifying and implementing telecommunication systems to efficiently service state agencies and opportunities for reducing costs associated with these systems; approving state agency acquisition of hardware and software and consultant contracts; leasing, purchasing, and contracting for information system and telecommunications facilities for most state agencies; and processing all state agency telecommunications bills.

Concerning construction services, the commissioner is responsible for administering most state capital improvement, construction, and planning projects; selecting consultants to assist on these projects; providing technical advice and services to state agencies planning to improve their physical space; cooperating with others to develop a capital program and budget for the state; enforcing the state building and fire safety codes; and, in consultation with the education commissioner, overseeing school construction grants.
