

This is for public viewing. I think the comments are as important as the article. Clearly, people are experiencing the same issues: incentivized conflict, protracted legal matters, unscrupulous professionals, purchasable GAL testimony, GALs who are not working for the child's best interest and parents punished by the judicial system using their children. Most importantly - the judges who let this all happen are not accountable. They have been engaging in unethical conduct, in spite of belonging to AFCC and AMLA was found to be unethical last year.
