

The most effective way to stop the killing of students and teachers at schools is to have armed security guards at the schools. Even if the sale of certain types of guns is prohibited those guns will still be in the hands of previous purchasers. Also a person determined to obtain an assault weapon will probably be able to get one somewhere.