

Hello

I am a middle class father, husband, public employee, and a former military service member in perfect standings. I am not the usual person to jump on board over every movement but over the past month, listening to all the media attention and all the misinformed politicians, I felt it was time to put my 2cents in. Connecticut has very strong gun laws but where it could get stronger is add in mental health and add in long guns can not be purchased with a drivers license and hunting license. Make that a weapons check or 14 day wait. I'm all for making stronger laws but what bothers be is to not address the real problem directly. When my 10 year old daughter came to me yesterday and said criminals won't follow these rules right? That right there told me everyone else gets it why don't the politicians see it. These bills in no way will remove guns from the street. Not any time in our lives. The only thing this will do is make honest hard working law abiding citizens rethink their status. Obey or? Politicians need to stop listening to the people who have no idea about guns or the "real" world and start using common sense!

Thank you
Anthony Pace
