

Mr Malloy's proposal is flawed and really takes aim at the legal permit holding citizens.....No one else will obey any law or be held to obey other than us.

Think of this.....

Let's pretend Adam Lanza is sitting in his cave right now playing Black Ops, or doing whatever he did for the past two years. If this law passes his mother will need to get a permit for her semi-auto rifle (s). Of course she does. How does anything turn out differently?
