

On Jan 26, 2013, at 9:42 AM, Bert Begin wrote:

Dear Madam, Sir;

Here is what I think is going on with the Gun debate, fixing the problem is tough making more gun laws is easy and makes politicians look like there doing something. Certain mental illness should be put in a national data base, that would be a good beginning but that may never happen because of Privacy issues.

Medical records would have to be exposed. All of HIPPA, Roe v Wade, and HIV Laws would have to be rewritten and that is a monumental task for Politicians. I Pray they will have the moral back bone to change those laws. I'am not sure why we need to protect some of the worse behavior in the country at all cost, these are just a few of the slippery slope items that I'am concerned about. The problem we will continue to be confronted with is mentally-ill people that will continue to do us harm instead of letting family members help, I happen to know a little bit about this, I have a mother and a brother in the st. of ct. that are schizophrenic. All the laws we have now make it nearly imposable to get our loved ones any help at all. If you have a sic family member or a friend and your very concerned for there safety, you call police and crises intervention, they ask you if he is a threat to himself or anyone, and if you tell the police I don't think so, well it ends there. If you say yes, then you will be questioned and then the person is asked if he or she wants to hurt themselves. If the person your trying to help says no then there asked 3 questions like who is the POTUS or what day is it then it's up to the discretion of the officer and they almost always never take the person in for 72hr. observation, because the last question is do you want to go to the hospital and they always say no. So you are put in a situation of having to lie to get your loved one any help, most people don't have the time or the passion to go on with this so they walk away. Schizophrenics are generally incapable of knowing they need help. Without involuntary commitment, they are abandoned to the streets, getting beaten up, sexually abused, stolen from and set on fire. They also sometimes push people onto subway tracks, murder grandmothers, slaughter firemen and enter “gun-free zones” to commit mass murder. Here is the rub, mental-illness is not against the law, they have the right to refuse there meds and thats a big problem. Mom, from the Sandy Hook shooter tried to get help for her son and it did not end well. This is the norm not the exception!

Now once again we the freedom loving are the problem and the target of the left and we have broken no laws or done nothing to make this happen, How is it going to make anyone safer to pass more laws, mad men and criminals do not follow laws!

Our 2nd amendment rights are to protect us from the Government and bad people trying to take our property and hurt us, not hunting! In the meantime, those teachers that have a carry permit be permitted to carry in the schools concealed if they wish with some training, this would cost next to nothing. Growing the Government once again over this with more police and PHD's is not the answer.

We all saw first hand how well 911 works when Dr.Pettit's Cheshire home was invaded and his wife and children where murdered, all first responders where behind there cars watching it all go down before there very eyes, and not long after that the St. of Ct. did away with the death penalty,just great! And we know how well 911 worked in Sandy Hook, 20 dead children and 6 adults, it did not work and you can't make the case that it did. Here is what will work; remove the Gun Free Zone Sign and Allow Teachers to Defend the Children and Themselves! Let's keep cool heads....

Sincerely; Bert Begin Canton Ct. (860)9192557

<012413_101011_1x2.gif>