

Dear CT Firearm Safety Committee, Please take into consideration the many and ever changing Firearm Laws(both State & Federal) pertaining to Responsible Firearm Ownership in The State Of Connecticut. These Laws are already on the Books and are not Enforced or Properly Instructed or known by Every Law Abiding Firearm Owner. I feel Knowledge is Power and Firearm Ownership and Responsibility is already Covered in detail! For Example The Connecticut "Assault Weapons" Ban never expired and is still on the books! All commonsense proper Safety Rules and Laws should be stressed and taught to All Adults & Children for Safety sake. Eddy Eagle of the NRA is a Fine Example. And of course I strongly believe in "Weapons Free" Zones for Public Safety! Respectfully Submitted , Charles James Buynovsky Jr.
