

Dear Sir/Madam:

I am writing today to voice my opposition to any new gun laws in CT. I strongly oppose the "liability insurance" and "50 percent tax". Neither of these will help to prevent gun violence. Criminals will still get their guns the way they always have, illegally. Mentally unstable people will still get their hands on knives, bows/arrows and guns, their own or someone else's regardless of new laws and/or taxes. The people who will really pay the price are law abiding, pistol permit holders and gun owners.

Get illegal guns off of our streets - that would help. As far as the mentally unstable, once someone is legally an adult, you can't force them to take their medication or to seek help. I have no answer for what to do about that.

Sincerely,

Cheryl Arminio
