

Hello sir or mam my name is Corey I am a firearm owner in Ct. I can not make it the 28th so I am emailing you my opinions and views. I do not think there should be more gun control but more reform in general. This is a complex matter and can not be changed with managing guns or magazine capacity its proven to fail in many states. It's odd to me that the media speculated about an AR-15 being used in the Newtown massacre when in reality the reports were that 4 handguns were used and the assault rifle never left his car. I think that was poor judgement and started an all out war on guns and assault style rifles. I think that it also infringes on our 2nd Amendment rights. I don't think that is a good choice and I think all it is is a chance to gain some type of political gain somehow but I think it will backfire and people will not vote for whoever tries to enact these laws. You should put your focus on mental health, violent video games, tighter background checks and more law enforcement or security for schools. Don't you see the trend? These psycos target "gun free" zones because they know that everyone is unarmed and it will be easy pray. The minute you put armed officers or police in these areas like schools I guarantee these violent acts cease to exist its really just common sense these people don't want a shoot out with law enforcement. Just try to understand that there are millions of law abiding citizens who own firearms that are good citizens that this will effect while criminals will not obey these laws. Thank you.
