

Hello,

My name is Eliza Eggleston and I am a sophomore at Newtown High School. On December 14, Daniel Barden was killed because Adam Lanza had access to a gun that with one pull of the trigger ended 28 lives, including his own. I played with Daniel on the sidelines of every soccer game our brothers had. At 7 years old, he died along with 20 other little students because Adam Lanza was able to easily get a gun that could kill so many so fast.

There is something wrong with a society, that makes it more difficult for someone to adopt a cat then it is to buy a gun; a gun that with one pull of the trigger can kill so many people and destroy so many families and communities. This is the state and the country that we live in, and we need change.
