

There is no one who can convince me that it is within someone's "rights" to possess a high capacity machine such that was used in Sandy Hook, among other places of disaster. These government fearing folks are hanging on to some idea of what keeps them safe, while making threats and bullying those who might not agree.

They can continue their strange love affair with their beloved weapons (rifles and handguns, which are often treated like toys, or if they really want to live by our forefathers, let them have muskets)...

however my children have the right NOT to get shot, and pursue their own happiness.

NO civilian needs a machine, nor clips of such capacity.

NO civilian should obtain ANY firearm without extensive background checks.

Yes, there are those who are mentally ill, and always will be. Let us not arm them.

Common sense.
