

Dear fellow parents and Gun control regulators,

This indeed must be a hard time for all of us. It has come to a time where we must examine the process of owning a gun and registering a deadly weapon, with no training.....it is not really clear why anyone living here in the US would need to by an automatic riffle planned for war.

When was the last time we allowed anything of such destruction to be purchased with no extended training or purpose??

Please realize that guns have their place, hunters, and true gunmen have training, they do not belong in our closets to brag about, or played with, or be stollen and kill with.....

thanks

Jane
