

I don't think it's unreasonable to ask for Gun Owners to register their weapons every year to an agency similar to the DMV that will run extensive background checks and that these checks should take place everywhere someone can purchase a gun.

I don't think it's unreasonable to ask that there be stronger enforcement of Gun Laws that are in effect.

I don't think it's unreasonable to ask that Gun Owners take responsibility for their weapons and are held accountable if they are lost or stolen.

I don't think it's unreasonable to ban for civilians automatic assault weapons designed for military use, whose purpose is to kill as many people as possible.

I do, however, think it is most unreasonable for people of our nation to be slaughtered time and again without the response to prevent harm and protect its citizens by its lawmakers. Now is the time to act- enough is enough.
