

Every idea I see my "representatives" come up with only hurts me, the ALREADY law abiding citizen! Raising taxes on ammunition and requiring liability insurance because I own guns is completely missing the point! Taxes and insurance will NOT STOP THE NEXT MANIAC from hurting someone! We law abiding gun owners ARE NOT THE PROBLEM you are attempting to fix with these shortsighted measures. Making guns harder and more expensive to own for law abiding citizens is preaching to the choir - we do not cause the problems!! Making anything harder to obtain does not make those that do obtain it more responsible. Do not hinder the FREEDOM of responsible AMERICAN ADULTS because of the actions of the irresponsible. The insurance and heavy tax requirements being proposed will only hurt we that already follow the laws, will not keep guns away from those should not have access to them, and infringe on the freedoms and traditions we as AMERICANS cherish. Please remember that we should not pay for the illegal actions of the insane.

Sincerely.

John Kent
